Art Unit: 1652

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I₁₋₃. Claim 1-5, 10 and 11, drawn to a nucleic acid molecule encoding a sulfite reductase, and host cell comprising said molecule, classified in class 435, subclass 252.3.
- II₁₋₃. Claim 6, drawn to sulfite reductase polypeptide, classified in class 435, subclass 189.
- III₁₋₃. Claim 7, drawn to the method of altering the level of expressing of reductase in a host cell, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- IV₁₋₃. Claim 8 and 9, drawn to obtaining a DNA molecule encoding agmatinase, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The claims are directed to I2 inventions related to:

- 1) sulfite reductase from Oryza sativa, wherein said reductase is set forth by SEQ ID NO: 2,
- 2) sulfite reductase from Glycine max, wherein said reductase is set forth by SEQ ID NO: 4,
- 3) the sulfite reductase from Triticum estivum, wherein said reductase is set forth by SEQ ID NO: 6, and comprising groups I-IV.

Inventions of Groups I-IV are distinct from each other for the following reasons.

Inventions I and II are directed to the enzyme and encoding DNA molecules which are different chemical entities having different chemical properties and biological functions. The searches for chemicals of Groups I and II, although overlapping, are different.

Inventions of Group I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case DNA molecule encoding sulfite reductase can be used for selection a homologous molecule by hybridization and not for altering the level of expression of sulfite assimilation protein in a host cell.

Inventions of Group I and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case DNA molecule encoding sulfite reductase can be used altering the level of expression of sulfite assimilation protein in a host cell and not for selection a homologous DNA molecule by hybridization.

Inventions of Group II and III-IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the enzyme sulfite reductase cannot be used in any of the methods of group III and IV, because these methods use another product, i.e., DNA encoding the enzyme.

In addition to election of any of invention form Groups I-IV, the Applicants are required to elect one of the claimed enzymes having sulfite reductase activity but originating from different plants and identified by amino acids sequences set for in SEQ ID NO: 2, 4, and 6, and having different DNA encoding sequences.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
